

Microchip Identification

A microchip is a means of permanent identification for your puppy. It contains a unique number that is linked to your contact information in a database. If your puppy is ever lost and turned into a shelter or veterinary office, this number can be scanned and your puppy identified as belonging to you. The shelter or veterinary office can then contact you and help you bring your puppy home.

We use HomeAgain® Microchips to identify our puppies and adults. When you purchase a puppy of $750.00 or more from us, you will receive a prepaid registration form to ensure that your puppy can be recovered using a database system. For puppies less than $750.00, a prepaid microchip registration is available from us at a discounted price of $10.00 ($18.50 value).
